mia politics are in an intangible shape. Ionopoly, politics, hope and courage are singled in an exasperating way. The Cab War.

When are we to have the cheap cabe promised us by the American District Telegraph Company? is a question frequently asked by those interested in the movement against our present outrageous hack system. That there is a field for cheap cabs there san be no question, and, that fact granted. there appears to be no good reason for any extended delay in the appearance of cheap sabs. While the Hack Owners' Association are quarrelling with the "privileged" owners, and they are both crying for commissioners and inspectors, the District Telegraph Company should cut the ground from under their feet and solve the entire problem by putting on our pavements a sufficient number of light, cheap running cabs to do the work in hand. It only requires the advent of the "Telegraph" cabs to prove how great is the demand for such vehicles. and with them will come a corresponding reduction in the rates for the hacks now in use.

Since the first announcement by the Dis trict Telegraph officials that they contem-plated increasing their business and enlarging the scope of their usefulness to the public by inaugurating cheap cabs we have heard nothing more from them. Can possible that the "privileged" owners, with their proposed cab com-missioners, have frightened the company? Are all their promises to be We trust not, for the need is so great, the opening for a profitable branch of business so striking, that it would be diffisult to understand how any company already enjoying the confidence of the community sould fail to embrace the opportunity and thereby strengthen itself as a public servant. Cheap cabs we want and cheap cabs we will have. The agitation now fairly begun must result in a victory over the monstrous monopoly now holding such a determined grip on the hack business

But delays are dangerous, and the cheap cab question is no exception to the rule. So long as the owners of hacks see that they are not to be confronted by practical opposition they will laugh in their sleeves and go on robbing their patrons. It will be useless to look to them for reform. They are too blind to would accrue to themselves by any such change. The owners and drivers will continue to charge exorbitant rates for poorly performed service just as long as they hold exclusive control of the business. Opposition-practical, determined opposition what will bring them to their senses and give the desired relief to the public. Theory and talking will achieve nothing; therefore it is necessary that the officers of the American District Telegraph should bring their theory into practice. If they abandon the project of cheap cabs, after having placed themselves on record as about to carry it into effect, the public will no longer have faith in any promises they make.

MR. SANFORD WARMLY WELCOMED. Admiral Rous early sought Mr. Sanford, and warmly welcomed him in behalf of the racing men of England. He expressed a high opinion of the son of Lexington and Bay Leaf, and con enthusiastic terms his appearance as a race horse. Admiral Rous feared, however, that Preakness lacked sufficient work and was wanting in the re quired condition to make a creditable struggle. Unfortunately the Admiral was right, as the sequel

WILLIAM E. GRAY IN COURT FOR PORGERS COMMITTED IN NEW YORK-THE QUEEN'S GOVERNMENT TO DECIDE ON THE QUESTION OF HIS EXTRADITION-PRESS CRITICISM OF SIGNOR ROSSI'S HAMLET.

Street Police Court, to-day.

Captain Thomas Sampson, detective for the United States government, the New York Stock Exchange and the Sub-Treasury, produced the necessary papers, and Justice Vaughan formally committed the prisoner to the House of Detention for at least fifteen days, after which it will rest with the discretion of the British government whether he shall be extradited or not.

Mr. Lewis, counsel for the prisoner, urged on behalf of his client his right to claim that he should only be tried for the crime for which his extradition is claimed—namely, forgery and uttering New York State bonds originally for $1,000 altered to $10,000.

It was ascertained this evening that Gray will be re arraigned to-morrow, when three additional charges omitted by mistake, will be prepared against him. W'S CASE-AMERICAN OFFICIAL NEGOTIATIONS RELATIVE TO HIS PURTRER IMPRISONMENT.

The answer was that it was impossible to say what course would be taken. The Legation was constantly occupied with the pending negotiations. England desires the surrender of prisoners and is only anxious to act according to law. recall some reminiscences of him over twenty years ago. You are aware that the first port made by the Argonauts of '49 to the Golden Land, most, if not all, the fleet provisioned and watered at Rio. The Young bride from Naples, and the Brazilians were over jubi lant with royalty. We Americans (and there were about 6,000 of us), were fearful of our liberties ashora about 6,000 of us), were fearful of our liberties sahora. Governor Todd, our Minister, fearful lest we might by some overt act brifts the two nations into difficulty, issued a very strong order trying to restrain the great erowd from coming ashors every day, but to divide it so each man would go ashore about twice during our stay, about two weeks. Great indignation was felt and expreased at cld Todd, but go we would and go we did. Things looked serious, when His Imperial Majesty not only removed all restrictions but actually encouraged his American brothers to enjoy not as much, but more freedom than his own subjects; municipal laws were for the time suspended, the beautiful gardens of Botofogo were thrown open day and evening; nay, his own garden, at San Christobal, was at our service for our especial benefit. On Wednesday, as well as Saturday, receptions were given. We were allowed to approach the carriage, drawn by the six white nules, and greet him isamiliarly, to grasp his hand. Sometimes the crowd was so great that it threatened danger, when, with a wave of his hand the soldiers were waved off, and, walking through the crowd to the palace gates, touched elbows with the adventurous gold seeker. So you see, Mr. Editor, his wish to see the people, as he would like to mingle with thom at all hours and in all places, is not a new thing, but "native and to the manner born." Let the Fossilated Fish and Bunsby Robeson stand back; the great American people honor this true republican, who, unfortunately, was born as Emperor. I could give you more had I space. Yours, truly,
